

Týřov' Castle Ruins

For our first trip to nature, we went to the ruins of the Týřov Castle, which overlooks the river Berounka, near the natural reserve of Krivoklát.

Here is the story of our excursion.

Our foggy journey started close to this nice bridge

Not far from the start, a small wooden bridge looks dangerous to cross, but it is perfectly safe !

Be careful of the steep edges !

How to cross an obstacle

Step 1: find an obstacle

Step 2: complain about it

Step 3: cross the obstacle

Try to look happy (not easy for everyone)

The path goes along a small river

which you can cross on tree trunks if you feel adventurous.

Don't forget to abide by the law

Once you go up one last time, you'll find the castle ruins

The castle was built in the 13th century

and it was abandoned 4 centuries later.

It has a perfect situation,
overlooking the valley

And it's now a perfect place for a lunch !

The fog lifted at the end of our journey

bringing back the colors of nature.

At the end, one last look over our shoulder

to see how the ruins dominate the valley.

And back to our starting point, in the sun this time!
